

Assignment for Long Form Journalism-

1: Reading Assignment

Long-form pieces usually take more time to read and process than regular news articles, but they're often more compelling, thought-provoking, and rewarding. Choose one of the following articles to read.

Who Was the Falling Man from 9/11? - Falling Man Identity Revealed

Religion in India: Tolerance and Segregation | Pew Research Center

THE BHOPAL DISASTER: HOW IT HAPPENED - The New York Times

2. Writing Assignment

Writing a long-form article takes a lot of time and effort. One assignment cannot teach you everything, from researching, approaching relevant people, doing primary research, etc. This assignment requires you to do secondary research and represent that in a narrative and engaging format.

The Shah Bano Controversy: A Case Study of Individual Rights, Religious Tolerance, and the Role of the Secular State - Inquiries Journal

Start by reading this article from Inquiries Journal, then explore other sources to build your understanding.

- Try to write this in an engaging way
- Give background and context to your characters
- Build it like a story - chronologically.

Word count: Minimum 300 words
